

Couchmaster© CYBOSS to be released today

Introduction to the biggest, comfiest and most spacious Couchmaster® of all time

Bergisch Gladbach, 11/16/2022 - Today, nerdytec announced their brand new product, the Couchmaster® CYBOSS. Available right now on the U.S. market, it can be purchased at nerdytec.com and on Amazon.

The Couchmaster® CYBOSS brings back much beloved features from the Couchmaster® CYBOT, not only enlarged but also improved. These include an expanded support surface for notebooks of all sizes, more storage room for your gaming and home office accessories and significantly bigger cushions for an even more comfortable seat on your living room couch.

More space for the user and their accessories

Due to its enormously enlarged seating area and support surface, the new Couchmaster® CYBOSS is perfect for all body types and supports even the most creative of seating positions. The black cushions, covered with a soft washable fabric, have also been extended. Pockets sewn onto both sides of the cushions now allow for more space to stow away snacks, gadgets or remotes.

In addition, favorite drinks can now be placed into a practical fixed cup holder which provides a safe space for beverages of all sizes.

Sustainable materials and a greater flexibility

The Couchmaster® CYBOSS' extra-large surface area is made of sustainable bamboo and colored in black with a water-based dye. To obtain the highest possible cooling performance, a large ventilation grille is embedded in the center of the board, keeping CPUs and GPUs chilled at all times.

In addition, the new alignment of the ventilation grille allows the user to customize a personal gaming or working space - no matter if left- or right-handed - offering the greatest possible comfort to all users.

Now available at the nerdytec store

As of now, the Couchmaster® CYBOSS is available for $175 through nerdytec's online shop and on Amazon.

About nerdytec

nerdytec was founded in 2011 by Roman Jean Charles Jakob and Chris Mut in Bergisch Gladbach, Germany. As passionate gamers themselves, they were tired of playing computer games at uncomfortable desks. Thus, they developed a product to conquer the territory of console gamers: the couch.

This idea led to the first ergonomic Couchmaster® and evolved into the best-selling patented Couchmaster® CYCON². With the innovative Couchmaster® CYWORX and Couchmaster® CYBOT, the Bergisch Gladbach-based start-up has taken up the fight against classic home office desk chairs. nerdytec has made it its business to revolutionize both PC/console gaming and home office working. We are passionate about developing and optimizing new innovations, all of which are made by gamers for gamers.
