*SoKO Gives the Cannabis Industry a Face Lift with Fashion, Premium Products, Culinary Artistry and More

Dateline: [San Diego, CA, September 26th 2019] — The founders of Soko have found a way to bring a luxury feel to the cannabis industry AND BEYOND. Along with their high-quality products and fashion line of hemp clothing, they've shown they can stand above the rest. Sokos' founder's vision is to stand out among their competition by providing the consumer with quality upscale products and events.

To celebrate this accomplishment there will be the 5th annual SoKO Cannabis Ball set to take place at the elegant BLVD Hall 4265 El Cajon Blvd San Diego CA 92105, on September 26th. The event is not only expected to wow the audience but also to educate and inform the health benefits of using cannabis and health and wellness products. The event will include the following:

- Hemp Clothing Runway Fashion Show
- Diamond Dab Bar
- CBD and THC infused culinary artistry tastings
- Red Carpet Photo-shoots
- Craft CBD and THC infused Cocktails and Specialty Cocktails prepared by master mixologist
- Product vendors and education
- Live DJ and body painted models
- Gift Bags filled with goodies and product samples

Event proceeds with go to the American Association For Lost Children (AAFLC) is an awesome and unique charity that physically finds and rescues missing children, operating on tax-deductible donations. AAFLC spends hours, days, weeks, and months conducting hands-on investigations, while traveling in and outside the country performing surveillance and undercover work searching for and rescuing missing children.

Since the beginning, AAFLC has found and rescued over 135 missing children from places like Germany, Lebanon, South Korea, Mexico and numerous cities within the United States. These missing children have endured physical, mental and emotional abuse – and in some cases sexual abuse.

Something Different

From their exquisite events, to the packaging and branding, makes its obvious that SoKO has invested a lot of time and money into providing an excellent product to their customers.

“Social Responsibility is one of SoKo’s core values and is the base of the brands identity. We recognize that the philosophy of “sustainable value” is at the heart of our management policies and our corporate conduct, which means that we have implemented a process to integrate social, environmental, ethical, human rights and consumer concerns into our business operations.

Our business model is designed to provide our customers with the highest quality products, which are made entirely in California in a responsible manner” –Dave Soko

SoKO goes even further than most cannabis companies by being heavily involved in fashion and the arts. The SoKO Cannabis Ball showcases new designers and artists while features some of the best cannabis companies in Southern California. High end cocktails and entertaining live music is provided to guests for an amazing experience.

Influential, innovative and progressive, SoKO is reinventing a wholly modern approach to the cannabis industry. Born out of a unique collaboration between artists, fashion and cannabis experts comes SoKO Cannabis Creations, representing the pinnacle of craftsmanship and unsurpassed for quality and attention to detail, further reinforcing SoKO’s position as one of the world’s most desirable cannabis brands.
